

Wollaston Child Care Center

January 2022

We want to wish of all of you a very happy New Year! Although 2021 was filled with challenges, we are grateful for all your support along the way. We are excited to see what 2022 brings!

Children will go outside following state guidelines. Please send them in with hats, mittens, warm jackets and what ever they wear for outdoor play! Outdoor play helps keep us healthy!

Don't forget the opportunity for a free Developmental Screening. It will help you learn about your child's development and help if you have questions or concerns. This is an awesome tool and it's free!! It is helpful to complete it from time to time to see how your child is growing and changing.

Are you looking for some new books to enjoy with your child this winter? Check out the list below. Reading aloud to your children is one of the most important ways to prepare them for future educational success.

Check your email!

These days we are using email to communicate information such as center announcements, snow closures etc. If are not receiving our group emails, please let us know so we can confirm your email address. Also, please check your "spam" folder.

Some of the most important things you can communicate to a child are that feelings are ok, mistakes are fixable and there's nothing they could do that would push you away or make you love them less. Behavior is not perfect. It is communication. Embrace the imperfect and show children they are worth holding close to your heart. No matter what.

DID YOU KNOW...

When you read aloud you're giving your child:

- More vocabulary
- An understanding of how books and reading work
- Knowledge about the world and people
- Food for the imagination
- Memories of your special time together
- A love of reading and learning that will last a lifetime

The local public library has a wealth of books and activities for children and adults. To see what's happening at the Thomas Crane Library in Quincy visit:
